and the

BEAUTIFUL BLUE PLANET

BY DENNIS NEIL KLEINMAN

Have you ever been to Planet Q?

Probably not, since it is millions of miles away.

And it so tiny it could fit
in your pocket!

Quinks, the creatures that live on Planet Q, are even tinier. But they are big in one thing:

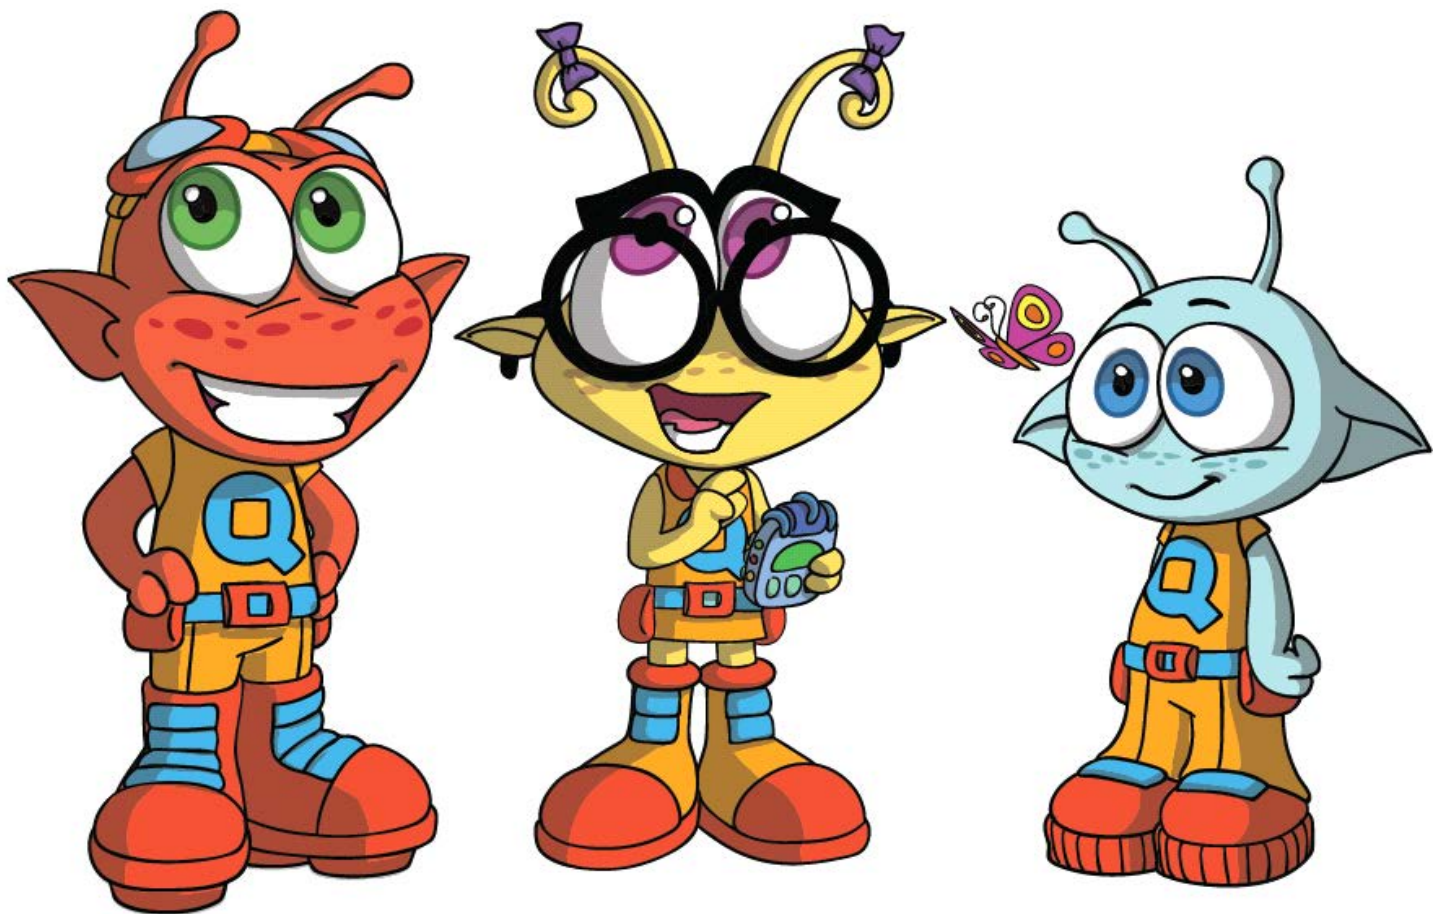

So when a Quink scientist looked through her telescope and saw a beautiful blue planet...

...everyone was so curious they wanted to know everything about it!

Three Quinks were chosen to travel to the planet and find out all they could.

This is Quazar.

He was chosen because he is the bravest Quink.

This is Neutrina.

She was chosen because she is the cleverest Quink.

And this is Fluxx.

He was chosen because he is Neutrina's little brother and their parents said he had to go along, too.

Off they went across millions of miles of space to the beautiful blue planet.

Which, it turns out, is the planet you and I live on:
the Earth!

There they met a very friendly,
very smart Earth girl named Sophie Rose.

She said she'd help the Quinks explore our world.

You can help, too.
Are you ready? Then...

LET'S

GET
